DRIVING DIRECTIONS

From the North: Highway 101, about 40 miles south of Eureka, take the Honeydew/South Fork Exit just before Weott. Turn right at the intersection at the bottom of the off ramp. You are now on the Mattole Road. Drive about eight miles on this road and you will see the Cuneo Creek Horse Camp sign. Turn right and drive in the entrance road until you arrive at the campground.

From the South: Highway 101 north, 4 1/2 hours from San Francisco, past Garberville to the Honeydew exit. Follow the signs towards Honeydew and cross over the Eel River on the Dyerville Bridge. Turn left onto the Mattole Road crossing underneath the freeway and go about eight miles to the Cuneo Creek Horse Camp just past the cemetery. This is a very twisty road through the tallest trees on earth.

Don't drive Highway 36 unless you are looking for a scenic alternate and are driving a sports car. Highway 199, 299, and 20 are all best driven in the daylight when you are fresh. 299 is the windiest of the roads, with 4 passes to cross in the 142 miles of two-lane road between Redding and the Coast. Take your time enjoy the drive.
